DUTCH CLASSES

The main language spoken on campus is Dutch, although you'll quickly find that most people are fluent in English as well. Are you interested in learning our beautiful language? Then don't hesitate to register for Dutch classes at Kulak. Check the section “Dutch courses @ Kulak”.

Kulak at your service

At Kulak, several people and services are there for you to answer your questions, to try and facilitate your working environment and to make your life outside work even more fun. We'd like to highlight three groups that could be particularly interesting for you as a researcher.

DOCTORAL WORKING GROUP (DWG)

This lively group of (post)doctoral researchers from Bruges and Kulak campuses represents the common interests of those researchers. DWG acts on three different levels: academic, social and communicative. Browse their website to learn more about Kulak and Kortrijk, and feel free to join this group if you would like to be part of this team. Members meet on a monthly basis.

BUDDY SYSTEM

The DWG runs a buddy system to help new researchers with ‘living in Kortrijk’ and ‘working at Kulak’. What can you expect from a buddy? Your personal buddy will show you around campus, and help you with your questions and administrative issues, yet please note that you should not expect financial, material, psychological, or legal help from your buddy.

TEAM RESEARCH AND EXTERNAL RELATIONS

This team is at your service for research support related questions. Outreach to third parties, communication (social media, campus news...) and press contacts are also coordinated by this team.
